What you need to know about Aarhus University's processing of your personal data

Here you will find information about why and how Aarhus University processes your personal data.

1. Who is the data controller?

Aarhus University (AU) is data controller for the processing of your personal data. Our information:
Aarhus University
Nordre Ringgade 1
8000 Aarhus C
CVR-no.: 31119103
Aarhus University has a Data Protection Officer. You can contact our Data Protection Officer at dpo@au.dk.
If you have any questions about the database, including the study invitations and processing of personal data, please contact Konstantina Sfyra at ksfyra@food.au.dk.

2. What is personal data?

Personal data is any information that directly or indirectly can be attributed to you. This can, for example be your name, your age, but it can also be a lot of information that, when linked to other information, tells something about you, for example your address combined with information from a public register.

3. Why do we process personal data about you?

We process your personal data for the purposes for which you consent to on the next page.

By being part of this database, you will be informed by email about the possibility to sign up for the study. Then it would be up to you whether you participate or not.

4. What information do we process about you?

We will process the following categories of personal data about you: General personal data.
This is for example, information such as your name and email address. We collect the information from you.

5. What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

The processing of personal data requires that there is a legal basis for the processing in the data protection rules or other legislation. We process your personal data based on the consent you have given to the processing of your personal data.
The legal basis is article 6(1)(a) of the General Data Protection Regulation.

6. How long do we process your personal data?

Your data will be deleted on 1 December 2029 (two years after the end of the project).
At any time, you can a withdraw your consent and thereby yourself from our database (see point 10 below), at which point we will also delete your personal data from the database.

7. Who do we share your information with?

Your personal data collected for the project will be processed by one or more external data processors: Rambøll Management Consulting A/S, Hannemanns Allé 53, 2300 København S, CVR-nr. 60997918 pursuant to the rules in Article 28 of the General Data Protection Regulation.

8. What are your rights?

According to the General Data Protection Regulation, you have a number of rights when we process your personal data. You can read below what rights you have if you consent to the processing of your personal data for purposes other than research.

Rights in areas other than research

- Right of access - In certain cases, you have the right to see the personal data that we process about you and to receive information about the processing.
- Right to rectification - You have the right to have inaccurate/incorrect personal data about you corrected.
- Right to erasure - In certain cases, you have the right to have your personal data deleted.
- Right to restriction of processing - In certain cases, you have the right to have the processing of your personal data limited to the storage of the personal data.
- Right to data portability - You have the right to receive your personal data in a commonly used and machine-readable format and to request that the personal data be transferred from one data controller to another.
- The right (in certain cases) not to be subject to an automatic decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling.

You can assert your rights by contacting the database coordinator, Konstantina Sfyra, by email: ksfyra@food.au.dk

9. How can you complain?

The processing of your personal data and your trust are important to us. Therefore, we hope that you will contact us if you have any questions or are unhappy with the way we process your information.

If you nevertheless wish to complain about our processing of your personal data, you can contact the supervisory authority in Denmark:

Danish Data Protection Agency (Datatilsynet)
Carl Jacobsens Vej 35
DK-2500 Valby

10. If you change your mind

Giving your consent is entirely voluntary. It is your choice, and you should therefore read this document carefully before deciding whether you wish to participate.

You may withdraw your consent at any time. You can do this by contacting the database coordinator and Sensory Lab Manager; Konstantina Sfyra, by email: ksfyra@food.au.dk

If you withdraw your consent, we will stop processing your personal data. However, you should know that the processing we have carried out up to the time when you withdraw your consent is lawful. You should also be aware that in rare cases your personal data will continue to be processed, even if you withdraw your consent. This applies, for example, to published material.